Personal Growth: Guide you toward improvement. Life Purpose: Shed light on your true calling. Regular reflection on your Tarot Birth Card fosters deeper self-awareness and empowers you to live a more fulfilling and purposeful life. What is a Tarot Death Card and How is it Interpreted? The Tarot Death Card, number 13 in the Major Arcana, is often misunderstood. Contrary to popular belief, it doesnt signify physical death. Instead, it symbolizes transformation, endings, and new beginnings. Its about letting go of the old to make way for the new. Interpreting the Death Card involves understanding its symbols. Typically, it features a skeleton, representing the end of a cycle, and a butterfly, symbolizing rebirth and new beginnings. The card doesnt mean that death is inevitable, but it does indicate a period of profound change. Its a call to embrace change, even if it feels uncomfortable. It reminds you that every ending paves the way for new opportunities and personal growth. Embrace the transformation the Death Card signifies, and youll find the strength to move forward with courage and optimism. EXPLORE TAROT.COM - TAROT - TAROT BIRTH CARDS By Tarot.com Staff Every card in a Tarot deck can teach you something valuable, but for each of us, there are a few cards that stand out. You can probably relate to these cards on a deeper level because they resonate with your individual journey through life. If you sit with their lessons and welcome their wisdom, these cards – known as Tarot birth cards – can become powerful allies. A Tarot birth card has special relevance to you based on your date of birth. It reflects a central piece of your path and identifies the life lessons you most need to learn. For example, if The Hermit is one of your birth cards, you likely have a lot to learn about the value of solitude. If Strength is one of your birth cards, your primary objective in life may be to develop vulnerability. No single card is more positive or negative than another – they each have their own beauty and brilliance! In a traditional Tarot deck, the most impactful cards are found in the Major Arcana. Often simply called the Majors, these cards represent key turning points and dominant energies. Numbered from 0 to 21, the Majors come with many layers of meaning to explore. By doing some simple math with your birthday or using our calculator, you can figure out which ones have the most important messages for you. Most people have two Tarot birth cards, but a select few actually have three! No matter which specific cards you end up with, they combine to provide valuable information about your life, your challenges, and your personal path. Our Tarot birth card calculator breaks down into a series of two-digit numbers and adds them together. Another common method works by taking each individual digit of the date and adding them up one-by-one. Theres no one right way to calculate your Tarot birth cards. Different tarot readers and experts have their preferred methods, but magically enough, they all produce the same result! Some people like to run the numbers yourself, start by breaking your birthday into four two-digit numbers following this formula: MM + DD + YY + YYFor example, if you were born on 06/11/1992, your equation would be: 06 + 11 + 19 + 92If the sum is a two-digit number, add the two digits together. The Major Arcana card with that number will be your first birth card. In order to find your second birth card, reduce that number to a single digit by adding the two digits together. Example: 02 + 05 + 19 + 62 = 88 + 8 + 8 = 16: The Tower (first card) 1 + 6 = 7: The Chariot (second card) On rare occasions, you can receive a two-digit number and the digits added together will give you a single-digit sum. In that case, the easiest way to find your second birth card is to add 9 to your single-digit number. The digits of the new number will add up to the original single-digit number. Example: 10 + 23 + 20 + 00 = 53 + 3 + 3 = 8: Strength (first card) 8 + 9 = 17 (notice how 1 + 7 = 8): The Star (second card) If the sum is a three-digit number, add the first two digits to the third digit. The Major Arcana card with that number is your first birth card. Reduce this to a single digit to get the second birth card. Example: 06 + 28 + 19 + 91 = 144 + 14 + 1 = 18: The Moon (first card) 1 + 8 = 9: The Hermit (second card) Theres one important exception to these rules, though! If you end up with the number 19 at any point in this process, youll have three birth cards instead of two. This is because 19 reduces to another two-digit number, then down to a single digit number (1 + 9 = 10, and 1 + 0 = 1). In this case, your Tarot birth cards are The Sun (#19), The Wheel (#10), and The Magician (#1).
