Proud members and supporters of: Allow us to introduce ourselves.... If Tae Kwon Do can be summed up in one word, it is this: self-improvement. To the novice, it may seem that Tae Kwon Do is simply a way of fighting, but this is not the case. Tae Kwon Do is a vehicle for discovering and developing the human potential. And that's why at World Tae Kwon Do Academy, we don't limit our approach to fighting or poom-sae (traditional forms). We teach a balance of both, combined with practical self-defense and life values. We hope that after every lesson you are more healthy--both physically and emotionally. I look forward to seeing your improvement as you begin this journey. -Grand Master Sun Mo Yi In 1983, Grand Master Yi immigrated to the United States. He brought one suit case and a desire to bring the lessons of Tae Kwon Do to the United States. Since the 80's, Master Yi has run training sessions for the US military, opened a successful Dojang (Tae Kwon Do gym), and created an annual trip to South Korea where his students can visit the birthplace of Tae Kwon Do. He initially moved to Colorado where he trained members of the American air force in hand-to-hand combat. He quickly opened World Tae Kwon Do Academy soon after, and he continues to run the business to this day. Taekwondo-(WT) Kyorugi (Sparring) Classes for Men, Women & Kids Taekwondo is a Korean martial art, characterized by its emphasis on head-height kicks, jumping and spinning kicks, and fast kicking techniques. The name Taekwondo is derived from the Korean word "Tae" meaning foot, "Kwon" meaning fist and "Do" meaning way of. So, literally Taekwondo means "the way of the foot and fist". The name Taekwondo, however, has only been used since 1955 while the arts' roots began 2,300 years ago in Korea. Known as a martial art and way of life, the evolution of Taekwondo was a direct result of the happenings in Korea long ago, and knowledge of the history is an important step in understanding Taekwondo. Taekwondo was developed during the 1940s and 1950s by various martial artists by incorporating elements of Karate and Chinese Martial Arts with indigenous Korean martial arts traditions such as Taekkyeon, Subak, and Gwonbeop. On May 28, 1973 the World Taekwondo was officially established at the Kukkiwon (headquarters) by Dr. Un Yon Kim. Located in Seoul, Korea the World Taekwondo is the governing body which preserves Taekwondo's roots and development, controls testing and testing requirements, and promotes the study of Taekwondo all over the world. In this way the WT hopes to continue the unification of their native art.According to the WT, "Taekwondo is one of the most systematic and scientific Korean traditional martial arts, that teaches more than physical fighting skills. It is a discipline that shows ways of enhancing our spirit and life through training our body and mind. Today, it has become a global sport that has gained an international reputation, and stands among the official games in the Olympics." Taekwondo Today: Taekwondo today is just as exciting as ever. Taekwondo, under the leadership of the World Taekwondo Federation has grown into an international art and sport practiced in over 190 counties worldwide. In 1975 the U.S. Amateur Athletes Union (AAU) accepted Taekwondo as an official sport. Taekwondo was also admitted to the General Association of International Sports Federations (GAISF) and the International Council of Military Sports (CISM) in 1976. In 1980 the WT became an International Olympic Committee (IOC) recognized sports federation top of pagebottom of page Lil' Dragons Our dynamic and fun Lil' Dragons program is developmentally designed with your three to five year old in mind!
