How does a capricorn man test a woman

If you want to keep a Capricorn man, prepare for the famous (and merciless) Capricorn man tests. How does a Capricorn man test a woman? He tests her values, morals and mind He pulls away to see how she handles it He'll put her on "probation" if she makes a mistake He checks how faithful, devoted and loyal she is He makes sure she's ready for a serious relationship If you're worried you'll lose a Capricorn man because you don't know how to handle him, be proactive and learn how to understand him. Start by learning what he wants and expects—regardless of what he actually says you—with a guide like Anna Kovach's Capricorn Man Secrets. Click the link above now, or scroll on to find out: how does a capricorn man test a woman, and how does she pass? How Does a Capricorn Man Test a Woman? Everything is a potential test with a Capricorn man. He'll leave no stone unturned as he tries to figure you out. He'll analyze and log away your every word and action in a mental safe, deciding whether he should invest his time and emotions in you. So if you're wondering, how does a Capricorn man test a woman, you're wise to ask. The list below will prepare you for the Capricorn man tests you'll face, and what you should do. Read next: How to Make a Capricorn Man Obsessed With You 1. Capricorn men fish for answers The first Capricorn man test begins immediately, on your first date. In fact, you might feel like you're in an interview instead of a date. He'll ask you a slew of questions, some of which may seem random or put you on the spot—like about your last relationship, and why you broke up. He'll want to know your views on everything from music to politics. In addition to this, he'll try to figure out what your morals and values are. He'll tell you stories to see how you react and whether you empathize with them. If he brings up a story about his ex-girlfriend, listen closely. He's trying to assess: Do you have serious girlfriend potential, and are you trustworthy? Are your values, perspectives and interests similar to his? How do you pass? A Capricorn man values honesty. So you'll need to answer his questions truthfully and be totally transparent. Show him you're on his side, but never lie or be fake, no matter how you think you're being judged. If he feels lied to, he may cut you off without saying a word about it. 2. The Capricorn man takes a step back This zodiac sign is incredibly careful and methodical in a new relationship. As an earth sign, he moves slowly. So if a romantic relationship is moving too fast for him, he'll hit reverse. If he throws up a wall after opening up to you, or he tells you he needs some space for a while, it may just be that he's not comfortable in the fast lane. If he really is attached to you, it's scaring the daylight out him. He must—at least in his mind—take control of it. He just needs time to evaluate his feelings. He'll be asking himself, does he truly care for you? How much does he feel your absence when you're gone? The answers would determine what he does next. How do you pass? To pass this test, be understanding. Don't pry, become emotional or try to persuade your Capricorn guy. He's a methodical man, never ruled by his emotions. You can send him a message from time to time. Make it sweet, but not demanding. Something like, "Hey, I was just thinking about you. If you ever want to chat, I'm here." It works because it signals to the Cappy that he's important to you while at the same time leaving the door open for him to come to you. 3. Suddenly he avoids you A super confusing Capricorn man test is when he ignores you. He might not answer his phone for days on end. His availability will shrink. He'll be busy at work. He'll act nonchalant and tell you vaguely that he was taking care of other things when you get a hold of him. It's not a breakup. But the way you approach it will speak volumes to him. Will you still be there? Or will you hold it against him? He needs an independent partner who will not complain or become insecure when he has to focus on his career or his own goals. But also, he's cautious to the extreme, not letting anyone in until he feels trust runs both ways and he can count on you. How do you pass? Respect the space he's creating. Focus on your own life and goals. Don't punish him by ignoring him or giving him the cold shoulder—it won't work in your favor. If he's a good guy and he's really into you, he'll come back refreshed, missing you and trying to see you ASAP. Yes it can be nerve-racking. But it can help put your mind at ease to learn how to influence a Capricorn in a guide like Capricorn Man Secrets. 4. He makes sure you're not messing up If you did something to break a Capricorn guy's trust, he will for sure test you on it periodically. But no matter how you messed up, if he feels the problems are worth fixing, you'll be on probation for a while. Kind of like a relationship trial period. He might tell you what you can do to make it right. But then he'll really expect you to follow through. On the other hand, he may just watch and wait. How do you pass? The biggest thing is, obviously, not to be a repeat offender! Because there may not be a third chance with a Capricorn. Let your behaviors demonstrate your regret and commitment. Do whatever it takes to stay on the right track, even if that means giving him your phone password to see you're not texting your ex anymore. If he's told you explicitly what he'd like to see, show him you're working toward that, actively. If he hasn't, build back his confidence by staying true to your word. There's no way to speed this process up—just stick it out, have patience and give your Capricorn time to see your loyalty to him. 5. He'll confirm your faithfulness Even in the beginning, before either of you has made a verbal commitment to the other, a Capricorn man must see signs of faithfulness. He'll observe how you are with other guys, including your guy friends. He may do something random like pop in on you to confirm that you're really doing what you said you were doing tonight, or simply to get reassurance. Possibly, he may ask around to find out how you act when he's not there. And for sure, he will study your social media accounts and comments. Paranoid? Maybe a little bit. But Capricorn men are always prepared to get hurt, so they'll go out of their way to make sure it doesn't happen. How do you pass? First of all, get off any dating apps if you haven't already. He refuses to compete with anyone else, straight up. Be patient when he asks about the nature of your friendships with guy friends. And always be conscientious of his feelings when it comes to other guys around you. Don't flirt with other men, no matter how harmless it seems to you. Your Capricorn just needs to know you're not looking elsewhere. 6. He'll assess your devotion A Capricorn man wants a partner who's attentive, loving and as devoted as he is to the relationship. It's hard to say exactly how he'll test this, but you may be able to tell from hints he drops. For example, if he keeps asking you about a special gift he got you and whether you kept it, he wants to know if it meant something to you. Possibly, he'll test your memory about special events like birthdays, anniversaries and big moments in your relationship. If the stuff that's meaningful to him isn't meaningful to you or slips under the radar, a big part of him will be disappointed. How do you pass? Passing this test is not so simple, but you should start by acknowledging that everything he does, he puts careful thought into. Show him you really appreciate the things he's done to connect with you and give you a piece of his heart. Respond genuinely to his gifts, his affections and the devotion he lavishes on you. Be present in your relationship with him. Enjoy the small moments with him and celebrate your achievements and milestones together. His fear is that he'll be taken for granted, so you have to show him that what happens to him. He observes your emotional reactions in general, the Capricorn's emotions are stable and he seeks a partner who is similar to him in that way. He's wary of getting close to anyone who might be too emotionally taxing for him. Are you pretty even-keeled? How do you act when mad at him? He'll find your trigger buttons and even push them from time to time to reveal what your true emotional reactions are. How do you pass? Show him you're strong and confident and don't fly off the handle. If you get upset, take a deep breath and explain things to him calmly. He gets when he's done something that provokes you. You can show emotions—he knows you have them—it's just the way that you handle yourself and how you treat him that he's analyzing. 8. He makes sure you're ready for a serious relationship Throughout your relationship, he'll assess whether everything adds up to a real commitment from you. Does what you say to him ring true and remain consistent? Can he trust you? How reliable are you? Do you have your life together enough to commit to someone else? Do you want him, or are you hooked on your ex still? These are all signs that you are (or are not) ready for the type of serious relationship he's looking for, and not just playing games. How do you pass? Just be consistent! Once the Capricorn sees (over time) that you're loyal and dedicated to him, he'll be won over, completely and helplessly. Be sure of what you want from him. This will guide you and show through your every word and action to convince the Capricorn man that you're in it with your heart and soul, just like he is. Other Capricorn Men Questions What do Capricorn guys find attractive? The woman who appeals to a Capricorn man looks put-together and physically attractive. How does a Capricorn man pursue a woman? The earth signs may be slow to act, but at least they're straightforward when they make a decision. Capricorns don't play mind games—they'll just ask you out if they like you. This zodiac sign will start by focusing on you with laser-like attention, which will be so intense it's difficult not to notice. Then he'll make his move, which is at least to get your number. If not secure a date at a specific time and place. He'll be determined and patient if you don't say yes right away. How does a Capricorn man treat his woman? A Capricorn man will treat a woman he's dating with great respect and admiration. This is because he only dates women that he has a ton of respect and admiration for! He's a total gentleman of the old-world sort, pulling out chairs for her and wanting to take care of her. He'll be devoted and he'll want to create a world to escape into with his lady after work, where he can relax, take off his mask and just cuddle. How do you know if a Capricorn has feelings for you? Letting you into their world tells you that a Capricorn has feelings for you. This sign keeps everyone at arm's length as a strategic move. Everyone except for the few who have proven themselves worthy, like their closest friends, family and the woman they give their heart to. So if a Capricorn man makes you part of his routines, opens up to you and lets you stay in his place alone while he's not there, take it as a good sign that he's caught feelings for you. How do you know if a Capricorn man loves you? A Capricorn man who is serious about you will show you a romantic side of him that you've never seen before. As reserved as he is, he'll spontaneously say sweet things that are so heartfelt, you'll feel like the luckiest woman alive. And yes, he tests you if he loves you to see if you can handle being with him and if you can create a stable future together. Unlike some zodiac signs, he will not fear making commitments or asking you to make a commitment to him, as long as he doesn't see anything standing in the way. What Capricorn man loves in a woman? Capricorn men love sweetness and a strong maternal instinct in a woman. However, these qualities must be balanced with a strong drive and ambitious nature. The Capricorn man adores mental sharpness, elegance, independence and strength. He prefers a no-nonsense attitude, but a little playful sassiness makes him smile. Ultimately, Capricorn wants to be a power couple, to be admired and respected by others. And if you two should stay together and get married one day, he will want to watch you dote on your future children. Hard-working Capricorns want to know if you support their ambitions. He's devoted to his work, and sometimes that takes precedent over the relationship. How you respond to his career goals will tell him where you stand on the topic of work and relationships.[1] Be a good listener when he talks to you about his workday. Get to know the projects he's working on and the names of his coworkers—it won't go unnoticed! Respond to his work ambitions with enthusiasm. Try saying something like, "That's amazing! You've really helped the company grow," or, "I really admire how dedicated you are. Tell me more about what you do." Advertisement A Capricorn man will test your independence. Maybe he walks in the opposite direction in a store or goes into the other room when he gets home. This isn't him avoiding you, but a way for him to see how confident you are by yourself. Being comfortable with or without him will show that you're a keeper! Do your own thing when he's not there. Try on that dress you've been eyeing without his opinion or start watching your favorite TV show. The structured Capricorn wants to know if you can financially hold your own. The 10th House governs his energy and favor for social status, material success, and reputation.[2] He's looking for a partner that's independent and secure in their finances. Asking you to leave or tally the bill after a meal isn't him being unchivalrous. It's a test to see how you'll react. Capture his attention by talking to him about finances, investments, and savings accounts. Don't dumb down your knowledge for him—a financially conscious and secure partner is what he wants. Advertisement Dependable Capricorns need someone they can rely on. With Saturn ruling his energy, he's looking for a secure and stable relationship. He wants to know if he can come to you at any moment for anything. Purposely putting you in stressful situations will tell him if you can keep a level head while being there for him. Maybe he has a coworker spend the night in your shared apartment without warning, or asks you to complete a task in a limited amount of time. Take a deep breath and do what you can when you can. Remember, he's testing you, and the best thing you can do is be authentically you. A Capricorn man wants someone who's invested in their career. He's a Cardinal sign, meaning he's highly ambitious and hard-working. Because of this, he wants a partner who's just as dedicated to their work and goals as he is. He might ask you questions about your current job, education, and career path. This is simply a test for him to try and get to know you better.[3] Be open and honest with him, even if you don't know what you want to do career-wise. Tell him about your dream job and how you hope to one day climb the ladder to get there. Advertisement Dependable Capricorns need an equally dependable partner. There's not much a practical Capricorn can't do, but he'll find something he needs help with just to test you. Maybe he needs help writing an email or cooking dinner. Either way, put your best foot forward and show him he can rely on you in any situation. Be the person he can depend on during the highs and the lows. The best thing you can do for a Capricorn is be there through it all. A Capricorn man is looking for someone patient. Saturn is his ruling planet, and he's meticulous and slow-moving because of it. Although greatly motivated, he likes to take his time. Keep this in mind when he's answering a question or making a decision. It could be him testing if you'll have the patience to move at his pace.[4] Try not to push him into making any hasty or quick decisions. He moves to the beat of his own drum, and giving him time and space to follow his own rhythm won't go unnoticed. Advertisement A Capricorn man wants to see if you'll respect his boundaries. He's a natural businessman, which means he spends a lot of time at the office or on work trips. He may not bring you on these excursions or tell you all the details, and that's okay. When he says he's doing something alone, this is his way of testing if you'll be able to trust and respect him in the future. He's looking for an independent partner, so be sure to allow yourself some me-time, as well. Capricorns will test your empathy to see if they can trust you. Emotions don't come easily to him. With the Earth as his element, he's practical and logical and can find expressions to be anything but. Before he tells you his soul, he'll open up slowly. Maybe he starts by saying he's had a rough day at work or is upset about an added commute. How you react to these subtle signs of emotion will help him figure out if he can trust you with his heart. Be charismatic and put on your listening ears. Even the slightest mention of emotion could be a test. Advertisement Stubborn Capricorns need a partner who respects their privacy. He may not give you a rundown of his day, and this is all to test if you'll ask pushy questions. This is his way of seeing if you trust him. There's nothing wrong with asking a few general questions like, "How was your day?" or, "Did you have a nice day?" Try to avoid prying questions if he doesn't seem to be in a talking mood. Give him space and know he'll come to you in time. A Capricorn man needs to know if you're a good listener. He'll test you by seeing if you remember the story he told you yesterday or asking you to talk to one of his coworkers. Dates, names, and events will be thrown your way, all to see if you've been paying attention. Answer his questions confidently if you know the answer. If you don't know the answer, that's okay! Ask him for a refresher and store that knowledge in the back of your mind for later. Advertisement Ask a Question Advertisement Thanks for reading our article! Capricorn men aren't just complicated—they're methodical architects of love, building tests as intricate as cathedrals. If you're wondering how a Capricorn man tests a woman, let me tell you—it's never obvious, but always deliberate. He's searching for a partner who can hold her own, emotionally, intellectually, and in the face of his carefully planned challenges. I learned this firsthand through one client's experience—a long game of chess with her Capricorn boyfriend that nearly ended over a missed birthday dinner. There's more to that story (and what it revealed about his so-called "tests"), but we'll get there. I'm Laura Petit, an astrologer with years of navigating these zodiac mysteries. Let's crack the Capricorn code together, one strategic move at a time. If you're intrigued by the layers behind a Capricorn man's actions, explore what truly drives his personality in this article. When it comes to understanding how a Capricorn man tests a woman, observing your level of genuine interest is crucial. After the initial encounter, he carefully watches for signs of true engagement. He's not one to fall for mere flattery; what he seeks is a consistent show of affection that speaks louder than words. He may even intentionally distance himself at times, just to see if you'll pursue him or if you'll respect his need for space. This is a subtle dance, one where patience and sincerity lead the steps. And if he seems to be giving you the cold shoulder by suddenly ignoring you, it's likely another test of your resolve and interest in him. Tip: Be persistent, yet respectful. A Capricorn man appreciates a partner who understands the fine balance between pursuit and patience. Delving deeper, a Capricorn man's method of testing a woman often involves assessing her emotional intelligence. He's on the lookout for a partner who can navigate the complexities of a relationship with maturity. During a heated discussion or an unexpected snafu, he'll be paying close attention to how she reacts—sometimes revealing subtle red flags of his own in the process. Not just to what you say, but how you say it—and the poise you carry through the tension. It's these moments that reveal whether you have the emotional depth he desires for a long-term commitment. Learn more about the signs to look for when he's testing you. A Capricorn man values a partner who can face challenging situations without losing her cool, this speaks volumes about her ability to be a steady companion. Tip: Express your emotions intelligently. Show him that you can be a pillar of strength, even when the going gets tough. Discover More about the Capricorn Man ➡ In the realm of romance, a Capricorn man's love is a fortress built over time, and patience is the cornerstone. He measures a woman's suitability by her willingness to wait, to understand that good things—and strong relationships—take time to develop. He's not the type to rush into decisions of the heart, and he respects a partner who also values the time it takes to cultivate a deep connection. If he's slow to respond to texts or seems to drag his feet on making plans, consider it a test of your patience. For a Capricorn, a partner's ability to maintain composure even in the waiting room of love is a sign of her commitment and a reflection of her understanding of his cautious nature. Tip: Embrace the wait. Patience with a Capricorn man isn't just about biding time; it's about showing respect for the pace at which his heart moves. When a Capricorn man evaluates a potential partner, independence is high on his list of must-haves. He may set up situations to see how you handle responsibilities on your own. For instance, he might take note if you're the type of person who can entertain yourself at a party or if you constantly seek his attention. He's not looking for someone who clings but rather someone who stands tall on her own two feet with clarity and confidence. From time to time, he may send you messages that are concise and to the point, testing your ability to respond with equal mental sharpness. These aren't just texts; they're time bombs ticking away, waiting to see if you can defuse them with effective communication skills. So, make sure you learn the potent tests Capricorn men need for a partnership of equals. A Capricorn man's reserved nature is not just a facade; it's a reflection of his serious approach to life. He may seem stoic, even in situations that call for a lighter touch, and he's keen to see how you'll react. Will you respect his need for seriousness, or will you try to change him? This test is subtle yet telling. He's not just observing your reactions; he's looking for a sign that you're the type of person who appreciates his depth and the gravity he brings to every situation, including a committed relationship. Learn more about his weaknesses in love. Tip: Balance is key. Show him that while you respect his serious side, you can also bring warmth and laughter to his life. A Capricorn man uses social gatherings as a litmus test for compatibility. He watches, sometimes from the sidelines, to see how you interact in a crowd. Are you the kind who can mingle with grace, or do you dominate conversations seeking attention? He's attracted to someone who can hold their own but also knows when to step back and observe. This isn't about being the life of the party; it's about demonstrating that you can match his preference for a low-key, dignified presence in public settings, which is essential for building a strong relationship. Make sure you learn more about the principles of how to make a Capricorn guy chase you. Tip: Be socially astute. Your ability to read the room and act accordingly will catch a Capricorn man's discerning eye. In the realm of zodiac signs, Capricorns—those steadfast earth signs—are often the most grounded. A Capricorn man, true to his cardinal sign nature, will assess a potential partner's approach to life, particularly when it comes to material wealth. He might initiate conversations about financial security or observe your reaction to the finer things in life. It's not that he doesn't enjoy comfort, but his cautious nature means he's more impressed by a woman who finds richness in life's simpler aspects. He seeks a life partner who prioritizes a healthy relationship over a flashy lifestyle, someone who understands that true wealth lies in just confidence. From time to time, he may send you messages that are concise and to the point, testing your ability to respond with equal mental sharpness. These aren't just texts; they're time bombs ticking away, waiting to see if you can defuse them with effective communication skills. So, make sure you learn the potent tests Capricorn men need, like oxygen in their lives. At Sons Of Universe, we're fortunate to count on a large community of members who are willing to share their personal life experiences. Here are some juicy comments on the topic that I gathered: "I appreciated how my Capricorn partner valued stability, but his tests for materialism felt a bit judgmental at times. It was reassuring to see he wanted a genuine connection, not just a flashy partner, but I wish he'd trusted me more instead of testing." - Tina, 34 "The patience test was a real challenge! I get why my Capricorn guy needed to see if I could wait, but it sometimes felt like he was too distant. On the bright side, it taught me the value of patience in a relationship, which was ultimately a good lesson." - Roxanne, 41 "My experience with a Capricorn's need for personal space was a double-edged sword. It's great they respect boundaries, but it sometimes left me feeling a bit disconnected. It was a learning curve to find the right balance between giving space and staying connected." - Alex, 32 "The Capricorn Texting Code is the intricate dance of modern romantic relationships, texting with a Capricorn man is like navigating a chessboard.
